

Vendor Directory

This Vendor Directory alphabetically lists over 1,190 communication hardware, software, and service companies along with their main product lines and a brief summary of corporate statistics. Included are the company address, phone number, year founded, approximate number of employees, and approximate gross sales. The format of the Directory allows for quick access either by vendor name or product line.

VENDOR DIRECTORY FEATURES

Distributed Computer Systems • This category includes peer-to-peer and hierarchical networks of data processing facilities which distribute computer power and access to sites where it is used, such as IBM's SNA.

Office Automation Systems • This category includes all systems which automate general/specific office and typing functions, such as word processing systems.

PCs/User-Programmable Terminals • This category includes communicating personal computers and user-programmable standalone or clustered terminal systems for local or distributed applications. A typical user-programmable terminal contains an auxiliary storage device, an operating system, at least one high-level language, and the capability to develop and revise programs via the terminal keyboard.

PBX/Key Telephone Systems • This category includes stored program computerized private branch exchange systems that switch voice only or voice and data (and other media such as facsimile and television), and key telephone systems that utilize direct line termination with the public switched network through the telephone company central office (CO), and unlike PBX systems do not include an attendant console; it also includes hybrid key telephone systems containing characteristics of both KTS and PBX systems.

Other Telephone Equipment • This category includes automatic call distribution (ACD) systems, call accounting and billing systems, call management systems, call detail recording equipment, etc.

Alphanumeric Display Terminals/Systems • This category includes standalone and clustered display terminals equipped with a keyboard for data entry and a communication interface to communicate with a host computer; keyed and received data is displayed on a screen.

Graphic Display Terminals • This category includes standalone and terminal systems designed for graphic presentation and equipped with a keyboard and a communication interface to communicate with a host computer. Graphic presentations are displayed on a screen in color or monochrome and typically consist of drawings, histograms, pie charts, etc. Some terminals supplement graphics with alphanumeric data.

Facsimile Terminals • This category includes all terminals that transmit images scanned from printed or written documents, and/or print copies of received images. Facsimile terminals typically support both functions and are referred to as transceivers.

Teleprinter Terminals • This category includes all terminals equipped with a printer and communications interface that produce printed copies of information received from a host computer or another terminal. The terminals can also be equipped with a keyboard for sending messages or data.

Batch/RJE Terminals • This category includes all terminals and terminal systems that transmit and/or receive data formatted in blocks. RJE terminals, in addition, are able to initiate host processing of jobs entered at the terminal.

Local Networks • This category includes all on-premise networks that interconnect terminals, personal computers, computer systems, and peripheral equipment (any single type or combination of these) for resource sharing and intercommunication among attached devices.

Communication Processors/Packet or Message Switches • This category includes front-end processors, nodal processors, remote concentrators, packet switches, and communication processors dedicated to message switching.

Modems & Associated Equipment • This category includes short-haul (limited-distance) and long-haul modems, modem eliminators/line drivers, channel service units (CSUs), digital service units (DSUs), async/sync converters, and any other associated equipment including cables/connectors.

Multiplexers • This category includes frequency division (FDM), time division (TDM), and statistical time division (STDM) multiplexers designed for any transmission medium (coaxial cable, fiber optic cable, voice grade lines, wideband facilities, T1 links, DDS, etc) and for any application.

Data Switches/Port Selection/Sharing Devices • This category includes all data circuit switches, port selection devices, and port sharing devices.

Gateways/PADs/Protocol Converters • This category includes all products that interconnect networks (gateways), packet assemblers/disassemblers (PADs) for attaching terminals or small computers to packet data networks (PDNs), and hardware/software products that translate protocols.

Data Encryptors/Decryptors • This category includes products that encrypt or decipher data transmission to secure sensitive data from unauthorized electronic eavesdropping.

Data Compressors/Expandors • This category includes products that compress data transmission through Huffman encoding or other techniques.

Voice Digitizers/Voice Over Data • This category includes products that convert analog voice signals to digital transmission (codec) and equipment that combines data transmission and voice on the same transmission medium.

Communication Test Equipment • This category includes all forms of digital and analog communication test equipment, such as protocol analyzers/line monitors, breakout boxes, bit/block error rate testers (BERT/BLERT), FOX message generators, analog signal parameter measurement equipment, etc.

Patching/Switching Equipment • This category includes all types of equipment for patching or switching analog or digital communication lines; includes VF, video, digital, and TTY current-loop patch panels and switch panels; individual jacks, patch, and switch modules; and patch cords and cables, connectors, and adapters.

Vendor Directory

Network Control & Management/Performance Monitor Systems • This category includes standalone systems for network surveillance, failure diagnosis and isolation, and remedial recovery; management reporting on line utilization, line or device outage statistics, trouble tickets, etc; and network performance measurement.

Carrier Services • This category includes common carrier transmission facilities for narrowband, voiceband, broadband, and digital services provided by common carriers such as AT&T Communications, ITT, Western Union, etc. It does not include carriers with value-added services.

Value-Added Networks • This category includes all transmission facilities with value-added services, principally public packet data networks (PDNs) like those provided by AT&T Information Systems (Net 1000), GTE Telenet, Tymnet, and Uninet.

Electronic or Voice Mail/Facsimile Services • This category includes all carrier services for electronic mail such as MCI Mail, voice store-and-forward, and facsimile transmission.

Satellite Equipment • This category includes all products for satellite transmission such as satellite delay compensators, transmission/reception equipment, antennas, etc.

Fiber Optic Equipment • This category includes all equipment for light wave communication over fiber optic cables; it includes modems, multiplexers, fiber optic cable, interfaces, etc.

Communication Software • This category includes all software products dedicated to communication and network support.

Communication Consultants/Contractors • This category includes all companies that provide communication consulting and contractual services for private networks, such as network planning, development, implementation, management, and maintenance services. It also includes those companies providing shared tenant services.

Sales/Leasing Firm • This category includes all independent sales organizations (ISOs) such as dealers, distributors, and OEMers which supply manufactured equipment to end users, and in many cases provide maintenance.
